

“I enjoyed over 30 years on the European Tour, the Seniors Tour in Europe and the United States and played in 2 Ryder Cups. I can honestly say that the quality and variety of courses in the Boyne Valley are on a par with anywhere I have been. It’s all here, from courses to suit the big hitting young guns to the more leisurely players, golfers of all ages and abilities will find a course that will suit their game. I know that everyone will enjoy their golf in the Boyne Valley and will look forward to coming back for another visit.”

County Louth Golf Club or "Baltray" as it is more affectionately known is situated 7km (4 miles) from the historic town of Drogheda at the mouth of the river Boyne. With the river to the south and the Irish Sea to the east this is links golf at its very best. Built on a generous site, the course has become noted for brilliant presentation by its greens' staff and for the hospitality of its members. Whilst the origins of the Club date from 1892, the current championship links was designed in 1938 by the renowned Tom Simpson and is laid out in two loops covering 190 acres. Further upgrades in 2003 have had a significant impact on the course and with the addition of some new Tees. "Baltray" now measures over 7,000 yards.

Rated in Golf Digest's top 100 courses in the world as a "hidden gem", it is one of the top twenty five courses in the British Isles and it is in the top ten in the island. Sometimes ferocious and other times benign, it provides competition for all handicaps.

Home of the East of Ireland Amateur Championship played annually in June. Proud host of the Irish Open in 2004 and 2009.

Members' owned Par 72 Parkland course originally designed by Eddie Hackett and redesigned by Eddie Connaughton in 2008/2009. USGA standard greens and tees. A subtle blend of golf holes including lakes on 3, 5, 6, 13, 14 & 15 along with remodelled fairways make this a challenging but fair test. The picturesque 3rd, 13th & 15th stand out, but you are spoiled for choice to choose a signature hole. A mix of well protected Par 4's, tempting Par 5's and testing Par 3's make this course well worth a visit.

Rathcore Golf Course may be described as parkland but this would not do it justice. It is nice to find a really good course that doesn't have 8000 in its sights, but don't be lulled - extra long it may not be, but it will test your game, especially around the greens. It has numerous natural springs that enable 12 of the holes to have water features. Add to this the rolling hills, numerous mature trees, yellow furze and strong historical background and you indeed have a golf course that can match any other for class. Under the direction of Mel Flanagan, this course has been moulded by Mick Lyons with emphasis on retaining the inherent charm of the surrounding area.

The magnificently constructed circular clubhouse draws its inspiration from the ring forts located on the course. It has been cleverly sunk below the level of the adjoining 18th fairway, leaving only the roof, upper floor and veranda visible from the course.

Seapoint Golf Links open in 1993. The Links measures 7000 yards and is constructed on 260 acres of linksland. The closing holes are bordered by the beach and offer magnificent views of the Irish Sea and the Mountains of Mourne. The beauty of links is that we are open 365 days a year. We are one of only 150 Links Courses in the world.

Visit Seapoint and take up the challenge on what is truly a Links with a Difference.

Who else plays here...

Alan Shearer, Damien McGrane, Darren Clarke and Padraig Harrington are among the many golfers who play here.

Travelling to the Boyne Valley

Located just 30 minutes north of Dublin in the North East of Ireland and at the heart of Ireland's Boyne Valley, Counties Meath and Louth can boast a unique and enviable location at the hub of four major motorways - the M1, M2, M3 and M4. We are rightfully proud of the fact that we are Ireland's most accessible region.

Drogheda is located only 20 minutes from Dublin International Airport while the ferry ports in Dublin, Dun Laoghaire and Belfast are also very convenient. Regular train services from Dublin and Belfast stop at Drogheda and Laytown and from Dublin to /from Dunboyne. There are frequent bus services throughout County Meath and from Drogheda to Dublin, Belfast, Dundalk, Galway and Navan.
